FOREWORD Increasingly acute problems in the field of waste management have led to a general rethink of waste management policy. If there was once an effort to make the best use of and dispose of waste through various methods of subsequent treatment, in recent years the trend has shifted towards environmental prevention. This means preventing waste from being generated at all.

The most important element of this "new" waste management system is waste prevention. At the same time, all those concerned (industry, trade, consumers, etc.) are invited to contribute to the implementation of this environmentally friendly waste management.

The second step of implementing this concept is the reuse and recovery of valuable raw materials. A large part of these raw materials should be put back into circulation through separate collection. In order to ensure the optimal and ecological implementation of these environmental policy objectives, it is necessary that the waste is properly sorted at the place of origin (household, businesses...). The purpose of this guide is to provide you with specific instructions on the best way to dispose of your waste. Use this manual as often as possible to maintain a healthy and quality environment. The Burgenland Waste Management Association (Burgenländischer Müllverband) and its waste advisers are happy to answer all your questions and suggestions at any time.

Simply contact the addresses and telephone numbers listed in this guide!

Hints:

- Biodegradable packaging and disposable dishes / cutlery belong in the bio bin or on the compost.
- Usable objects and textiles are returned to the cycle in RE-USE shops. www.reuse-burgenland.at
- If you have any questions, please contact the garbage phone at 08000/806154 free of charge.
- Always empty the packaging you put in the collecting container!
- Only packaging belongs in the yellow sack / yellow bin. Please di spose of non-packaging of the same material in the residual waste.
- In principle, all waste is taken over in the BMV-UDB reloading stations and in the Regional waste collection points.
- Only hollow glass containers belong to waste glass. All other types of glass make recycling difficult.
- Small metals (e.g. bicycle bells, screws, nails, ...) are collected in the metal packaging collection.
- If there is more residual waste, the chargeable BMV residual waste bags must be used. Neutral bags are not accepted.
- Please collect in a space-saving manner. Squeeze the plastic bottles and fold the cardboard boxes.
- Problem substances represent a particular danger. Find out more about this in Guide 5.
- •••Put your garbage bin on the sidewalk at 7:00 a.m. on the day of disposal.
